- Meet key decision-makers in the fields of Counter-Terrorism and Homeland Security
- Interact with government, defense and police officials, who deal with terrorism on a daily basis
- Learn about cutting-edge research, new operational practices and technological innovations from leading international experts
- Network with entrepreneurs and significantly broaden your customer base in the global security and Counter-Terrorism industry
- Participate in discussions and professional workshops on the most advanced and pertinent topics in modern Counter-Terrorism
- Widen and diversify your global network of professional relationships in the field of Counter-Terrorism

Agenda

The conference will commence on September 10, 2012, with a unique series of lectures in which Israeli decision - makers and heads of security services will analyze the regional and Israeli security challenges in light of tectonic changes in the Middle East. This "Talking Heads" series will feature former Directors of Mossad and the ISA (Shabak), IDF Chiefs of Staff, Directors of the Intelligence Directorate, National Security Advisors, General Commissioners of Israel's Police, and Directors of Counter-Terrorism Bureaus. On the evening of September 10, 2012, we will conclude the first day of the conference with a welcoming ceremony and reception.

The conference's Plenary Session September 11 will feature international keynote presentations from senior officials, decision - makers and leading academics, who will analyze regional and global security challenges. The Plenary Session will provide a backdrop for the in-depth examinations and discussions of the following two days.

On the evening of September 11, 2012, we will hold a Memorial Ceremony for the victims of 9/11 and of terrorism worldwide. Following the memorial ceremony, former Israeli Prime Minister Mr. Ehud Olmert will deliver a Keynote Address. The second day of the conference will conclude with an analytical simulation and presentation of lessons learned from crisis negotiation during terrorism events (Toulouse, Mumbai, Beslan), to be conducted by a team from the IDF Crisis Negotiations Unit.

On September 12, 2012, the conference will be devoted to 11 regional workshops that will examine, from different geo-political perspectives, the threats and challenges emerging from current processes and changes in the Muslim world.

On the evening of September 12, 2012, we will present the world premiere screening of the documentary, "Suicide Killing – Proliferation: The Path to Darkness", to be followed by a scholarly discussion of the phenomenon of suicide attacks.

The morning of September 13, 2012 will be devoted to 6 special workshops dealing with new trends, challenges, and fundamental issues facing counter-terrorism, including pharma-terrorism, cyber-terrorism, the future of global jihad, illegal immigration and law enforcement, counter-terrorism and international humanitarian law, and Hezbollah's activity in Latin America.

On the afternoon of September 13, 2012, top Israeli and international experts will conduct a simulation, which will analyze and study the emergence of the Sinai Peninsula as a "glocal" terrorism threat, and the security implications of this for Israel and the Middle East.

Conference's Spotlight

The presentations throughout the conference will cover four main issues:

- The Resurgence of Sunni Islamism: The process that began over a year ago, which has come to be known as the “Arab Spring”, led to the overthrow of traditional regimes and the rise to power of various Sunni Islamist movements (e.g., the Muslim Brotherhood, Salafist movements) in Arab countries in North Africa and the Middle East.
- The Quest of Rebellion/Revolution for Democratization in the Arab World: The collapse of the old authoritarian regimes and the devolution of power to the masses has enabled fundamentalist movements and hybrid terrorist organizations to exploit the opening of a “window of political competition”, in general, and democratic elections, in particular, to gain power and legitimacy.

- Instability and the Crisis of Statehood: The Islamist revolutions in the countries of the Arab Spring have led to a crisis of legitimacy in states in the Middle East; the erosion or disappearance of effective control of territory, borders, and certain populations as an outgrowth of regime instability; the loss of a monopoly on centralized, organized state powers; and the appearance of “non-state actors”.
- The Information Revolution and Its Impact on Terrorism: Cyber-space, the Internet, and social networks are being used to initiate and foment revolutions and promote political processes, and to conduct terrorist attacks (cyber-terrorism).
