

Expectations that did not Materialize: A disappointed Jihadi Activists' Chat

An Al-Hesbah forum activist, who has been a website member since December 2007, wrote an emotionally charged post directed toward the jihadi commanders, requesting to know the location of an attack previously discussed on the forum. He wrote:

We were all waiting for the attack during Ramadan¹, and now Ramadan has passed...we expected it to be carried out on the day that the General Assembly was held.² We yearned for it. How we wished to hear that Nijad (Ahmedinijad – Trans'), Sarkozy (Nicola – Trans'), and Peres (Shimon – Trans') and all the Heads of States whom we are fighting against, would die on the same day, but this did not happen.... we have waited enough....we have told the people....based on the words of the Brothers and the analyses... the time is ripe...on the life of Allah, we have waited for more than four months until now. On the life of Allah, we are waiting for this every day and every hour.

Another forum participant, who has also been a member of the site since December 2007, joined in and wrote: "I believe that it is near." However, other participants wrote that they should wait patiently and stated that "the thundering attacks" would arrive by surprise, without any signs. For instance, a site user named Al-Arabi Muslim, who has been a forum member since December 2007, explained:

The commanders have operational vision, which differs from our vision. We are their supporters, and they have considerations and arrangements which depend on the circumstances. I think that the timing of the attack was the Brothers' conclusion and nothing else.

Another site user added: "Perhaps it will occur next September".³

² The Plenary Session of the annual U.N. General Assembly opened on 24th September, 2008

More on Expected Attacks against the United States

A member of the Al-Hesbah forum, who calls himself "The Black Flags" and has been a registered user since May 2005, wrote an announcement on October 1, 2008 under the heading "Soon American towns will burn on live television." He explained that the attacks that occurred in 1992, during the last year of the first Bush administration, would repeat themselves on a broad scale – set to include all American cities – during the final year of the second Bush administration. He added that the American army would retreat from Iraq and Afghanistan and put emergency laws into effect. He posted additional links to YouTube videos showing riots that broke out in 1992 in a number of American cities.⁴
